Road Safety

Road safety is a great subject in which to engage your children. It's a subject even the youngest children should know something about because everyone uses the roads, whether driving, walking, or travelling in a car as a passenger.

It is important for children to understand the need to see and be seen, and how difficult it is for drivers to see them. As parents and carers, you play an important role in preparing children to become independent travellers. As your child approaches the age of 11, you will need to begin to consider the move to secondary school and their journey to school. For many children, this will be the first time that they have travelled any distance from home without you. They may have to use unfamiliar modes of transport, such as buses and trains, on an unfamiliar route.

You should keep talking to your child about road safety and ensure that they know the importance of continuing to take great care when crossing the road, including putting away their phone and taking out any earphones when crossing the road. Remind them that they will be unable to hear traffic if they are listening to music through their earphones, likewise they will not be able to see cars coming or danger ahead if they are looking at their phones.

Our Year 6 teachers have recently run a series of road safety lessons for their classes because many of our Year 6 children walk to /from school alone.

- Keep 2m apart when dropping off and collecting children.
- Do not mix bubbles outside of school, especially households.
- Contact the school immediately if someone in your household falls ill with COVID symptoms.
